DEVELOPING ETHICAL LEADERS FOR THE COMMON GOOD.

PROGRAMME PURPOSE

Emotional intelligence, also known as EQ, is a crucial factor in personal and professional success. This course teaches you to be aware of, and to manage, emotions and relationships. It will teach you how to connect with peers and subordinates and how to manage your own emotions, as well as the emotions of others. This can play a part in determining how successful you are, both in the business environment and in your personal life.

We have all worked with and listened to brilliant people. When we look at truly extraordinary people who inspire those around them and make a difference, it becomes clear that they do this by connecting with people at a personal and emotional level. What differentiates them from others is not their IQ (intellectual intelligence), but their EQ (emotional intelligence). This course will help you to develop your emotional intelligence. EQ is a critical skill, required to be successful in the new world of work in the Fourth Industrial Revolution (4IR).

PROGRAMME OUTCOMES

Once you have successfully completed this course, you will be able to:

- Explain the concept of emotional intelligence.

- Identify techniques to understand, use and appreciate the role of emotional intelligence in the workplace.
- Recognise different emotions in yourself and others and identify how to manage them.
- Create a plan to improve your EQ.

PROGRAMME STRUCTURE

The following key topics are covered in the course:

- The concept of emotional intelligence
- Emotional intelligence in the workplace
- Understanding and managing emotions
- Improving your emotional intelligence.

TOMORROW IS BEAUTIFUL

ACCESS TO TECHNOLOGY

Milpark provides students with materials, resources, formative assessments (including online tests and quizzes), discussion opportunities and several administrative services as part of the myMilpark and myCourses online tuition and support environments. Course materials direct students to additional external resources in the form of links to downloadable documents, websites, and videos.

Having access to the above online facilities is essential for efficient communication, learning and success. You will need continuous (daily) access to study, using the resources mentioned above, and to submit and receive your assignments.

Minimum system requirements

1. Reliable broadband internet connection with continuous access
2. Firefox/Chrome/Edge web browser
3. Microsoft Word
4. PDF Viewer
5. Ability to scan and upload documents
6. Email/cellphone for notification and communication.
7. Access to Microsoft 365 using Milpark student credentials.

STUDENT SUPPORT

Library access

The Milpark Library now provides access to e-books in a virtual library called Cyberlibris (Scholartext). Lecturers may create smart bookshelves per course or module for students to access (these shelves can contain prescribed and recommended books). Students can also create their own personal smart bookshelves containing resources for their studies. Having access to a digital library means that thousands of students can access books and resources from anywhere at the same time online. There is no need to make reservations and requests, and no limit to the time a student has to access a book. With the implementation of Cyberlibris, students also have access to full-text resources via ProQuest (global), Ebsco (global) and Sabinet (South African publications), to assist with research and to enrich their learning experience. Access to the Library is included in the module fee.

Tutor

Comprehensive student support services are available. Students are provided with administrative support by Student Services. To assist with understanding content, students have access to tutors whom they can contact individually. Students who experience study and/or personal problems have access to a student counsellor. All support services are available to registered students via myMilpark (myCourses).

DURATION

This course will run over a period of four weeks, running from Tuesday to Monday every week.

ASSESSMENT

An integrated approach to assessment is applied. The practical nature of the course is emphasised in all assessments.

The following are examples of assessments/activities that you could be exposed to during your course:

- Online quiz or online test
- Individual and/or group assignments with open-ended questions
- Online discussion forums with other students and your course lecturer
- Watching videos and summarising the main points
- Reading and engaging with study material, articles, or information on websites
- Researching a specific topic and summarising your findings.

The exact structure of your assessments will be communicated to you in a detailed assessment plan when the course commences. A minimum final mark of 50% will be required to complete the course successfully.

CERTIFICATION

A short course certificate of completion will be issued if you meet the minimum requirements for certification for this specific course.

FURTHER STUDIES

Students who have successfully completed this short course certificate may articulate onto other short courses. Students may at any time apply for admission to any of Milpark's further or higher education qualifications, where they may be admitted, subject to the admission requirements of each qualification.

PRICING

The course fees include access to the online environment (including library services) for the full duration of the course, all study material, access to the lecturer online and one cycle of assessments.
