

Flexibility was the key reason for my choice of Milpark Business School. I needed to further my education in an environment where being a new husband, dad and working at a corporate job was part of the package.

The level of education and expertise provided by the lecturers and facilitators made learning easier. The world class content and degree of insight provided me with a competitive advantage in my business venture. The knowledge that I gained formed the bridge that I needed to move from a corporate to an entrepreneurial environment.

The Milpark MBA has made it possible for me to move very quickly from a marketing position in a large multi-national company to being the owner of my own consultancy as well as holding a senior executive position in a training company. If it had not been for the confidence and skills gained from my MBA I would still be stuck in a corporate no-go zone.

Greg Zurnamer: Owner - HWA Marketing and Sales Consulting; Marketing Director - Huthwaite Africa